17th January 2012

EU RoHS Declaration of Conformity

As regards the European Community's legal requirements in respect of the restriction of the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment

Beijer Electronics Products AB, (hereafter referred to as Beijer Electronics), hereby confirms that from 1st July 2006 all Beijer Electronics branded products brought into the European Community by Beijer Electronics and products developed by Beijer Electronics Products AB for use within the EC have been manufactured in compliance with EU Directive 2002 / 95 / EC, in as much as these products contain lead, mercury, hexavalent chromium, PBB and PBDE at concentrations <0.1% by weight and cadmium at concentrations <0.01% by weight in all homogenous materials except where exempt from Directive 2002 / 95 / EC (RoHS) and its amendments.

Beijer Electronics will provide individual Beijer Electronics RoHS Declaration of Conformity for individual Beijer Electronics products when called upon to do so.

In respect of the third party products which are not RoHS exempt and which Beijer Electronics regularly distributes within the EC, Beijer Electronics undertakes to supply a copy of the manufacturer's Declaration of RoHS Conformity upon request. In respect of other third party products which Beijer Electronics may occasionally distribute, Beijer Electronics undertakes to request a copy of the manufacturer's Declaration of RoHS Conformity and so make it available when called upon to do so.
