Customer Action Requested:

In conjunction with the launch of iX Developer 2.40 on April 18, 2018, iX Developer demo version will EOL. This means that the demo version will no longer be released and published from iX Developer 2.40. Additionally, previously released iX Developer 2.x demo versions will be removed so that it will not be available for download from April 18, 2018.

The 30-day free trial is already available in the full iX Developer, which is upgradable to fully licensed version with an iX license key after the trial period is over. The iX license key can be purchased through your Beijer Electronics representative.
